FOREWORD

The whirring wheels of time record another year's activity at Lincoln High. Whatever it has meant in purpose or fulfillment for you we hope you find a moving image here: This year we have chosen a humorous theme and have used a personified cat whom we have christened Pete the Prowler. If in the years to come this Prowler awakens some cherished memory in the hearts of you who are now in attendance, it will have accomplished its mission.

PETE THE PROWLER

Tangible proof of our athletic department's efforts.

DEDICATION

We students of Lincoln High School are constantly surrounded by the many superior facilities which this school provides for us. Important among these is an excellent athletic department with one of the finest gymnasiums in the state, and well-trained, hard-working coaches.

Proof of this departments success is both tangible as pictured above, and intangible as evidenced by the exceptional citizens influenced by this department.

The work of this group begins but never really ends. Their influence extends into every field: scouting; summer sports such as swimming, baseball, and softball; winter sports such as skiing, skating, and bowling; and numerous other recreational activities. Even when our school years are over, school athletics will provide us with a common bond.

We therefore dedicate this 1949 PROWLER to our athletic department, whose spirit will prevail upon us always.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT

PRINCIPAL

KALMER OSTBY

An efficient board of education and progressive supervisors provide and guide the educational facilities of Thief River Falls. Six leading businessmen give much voluntary time and effort to their job as school board members. An up-to-date, efficient school is the aim of Superintendent W. G. Claffy, who directs the three grade schools and Lincoln Junior-Senior High. In his first year at Lincoln, Principal Kalmer Ostby is getting well acquainted with the activities of Lincoln High, and has proven himself an able leader of students and faculty.

SCHOOL BOARD

Lloyd Bennes, Clerk; Otis Wold, Vice-President; Glen Ahre, Director; Roy Oen, Treasurer; Andy Williamson, Director; A. E. Jacobson, President.

JUNIOR HIGH PRINCIPAL

LYDA BATTEN

In her dual position as Lincoln Junior High Principal and as a math teacher, Miss Lyda Batten keeps both her office and her class running smoothly. She also serves as a leader in the Junior Red Cross Council.

DEAN OF GIRLS

HELEN MOVIUS

Serving as dean of girls, teaching public speaking, acting as senior class adviser for dramatic clubs and Thespians give Miss Helen Movius many busy days.

Behind the typewriters and adding machines of the central office are the friendly and helpful secretaries, Miss Winifred Wengeler and Miss Delores Omundson.

Mrs. Edna M. Nilsson capably takes care of all the Lincoln, Washington, Knox, and Northrup schools' health problems.

This outstanding group of students is Lincoln High School's first Student Council. The Council is composed of one representative from each of the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades. Two sophomores, three juniors, and four seniors represent the senior high section. Jerry Rasmussen, one of the junior members, isn't pictured due to serious illness.

In an effort to set up a student government the various classes held an election early last fall. The first job of those elected was to prepare a satisfactory constitution for our school.

As one of its first projects, the council worked to provide transportation to the district basketball tournament.

Officers of this group are: Barbara Nilsson, president; Allan Williamson, vice-president; Eloise Benson, secretary; and Harry Simons, treasurer.

COACHING STAFF

Robert Nick, Wayne Johnson, Richard Roberts, N. Quentin Jones

Lincoln athletes have been guided on their sporting destinies this season by a very capable coaching staff. Despite unusually numerous injuries and tough competition, the Prowler squads have turned in successful seasons in all fields of sports. Lincoln cage and grid fans found the Prowlers tying for second place in the North Valley Conference standings in both sports.

Credit for the Prowler sports success is due not only to the players and their coaches, but also to the hard-working student managers who have worked faithfully behind the scenes of Lincoln athletics.

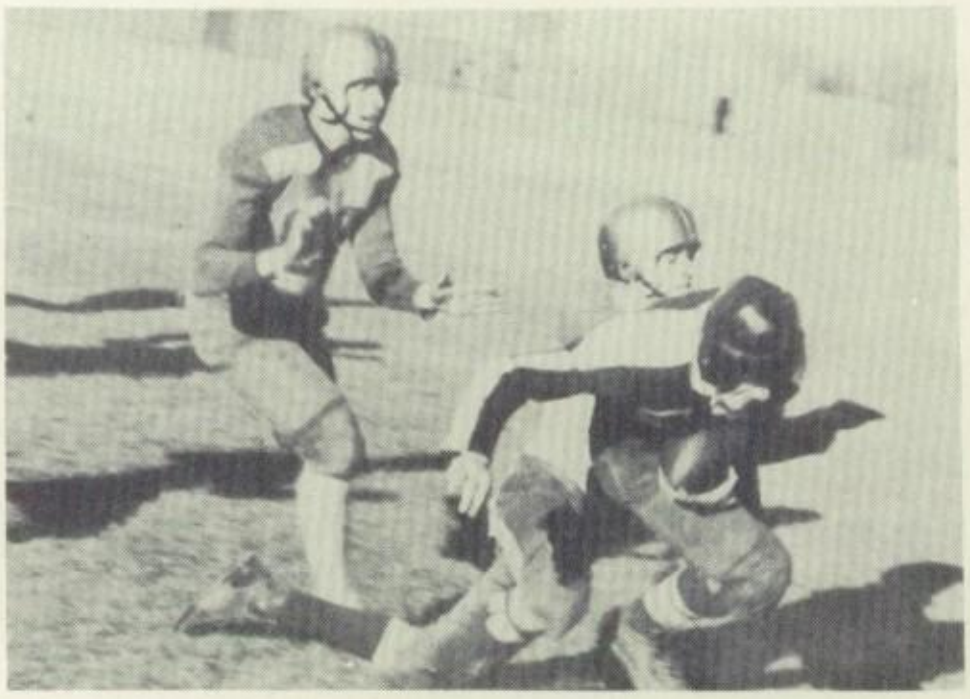
ROSEAU

Prowler gridders opened their 1948 football season with a 20-7 victory over Roseau on Friday, September 10, on the local field. The Lincolnites marched 60 yards in 13 plays for their first score, with Cal Bradley bucking over from the two.

Coach Johnson's charges rolled up two more touchdowns in the second half. Cal Bradley smashed center for his second tally; and an aerial, Grovum to Wagner, wound up the Lincoln scoring. Co-captain Al Williamson racked up two conversions while quarterbacking his squad to the 20-7 triumph.



Crookston dropped for a loss by Williamson as McMahon closes in.

RED LAKE FALLS

Racking up two touchdowns and a safety in the first half, the Lincoln eleven overpowered a smaller Red Lake Falls squad 26-0. The game, played on September 17 in Red Lake Falls, found the Prowlers breaking loose for touchdown ramps of 32, 70, and 72 yards.

The Blue and Gold unleashed an effective passing attack completing 9 out of 16 attempts against the Eagle defenders. Prowler pass defense was outstanding also with two Red Lake passes being intercepted and run back for touchdowns. The Prowlers had eight first downs against two for the Eagles but were penalized 50 yards to the opponents five.

GRAND FORKS

Grand Forks Central's powerful eleven handed Prowler squad a decisive 31-0 licking, Friday, September 24.

The Redskins, paced by speedy Ron Thompson's three touchdowns, provided Coach Johnson's charges with their first defeat of the season. Half-time found the Lincolnites trailing 12-0, while the third quarter margm was 19-0.

Al Williamson, Prowler mainstay, injured his knee early in the third period and was forced to leave the field. Without their sparkplug, the Lincoln attack faltered and the Prowlers who had threatened several times earlier were unable to score.

Prowlers swarm Baril in Red Lake game.

DEVILS LAKE

Trailing 6-0 in the final period, the Prowlers fought back to edge a determined Satan eleven 7-6, on October 1, and climaxed a successful Homecoming.

Don Lee, Satan scatback, put the visitors into the lead midway in the third quarter. However, the Lincolnites, taking to the air, came fighting back. Two passes, from Williamson to Wagner and Cal Bradley, brought the pigskin to the 12 yard line. Then, two plays later, Don Baken's jumppass hit Wagner for the counter. Another aerial, Williamson to Wagner, provided the Prowler victory margin.

REVIEW

GRAFTON

The Grafton "Spoilers" lived up to their nickname as they upset an offcolor Lincoln squad 7-0 on October 8 at Grafton. Prowler grid hopes hit a new low as the underdog Grafton club pulled the surprise of the season.

Passing for their points in the first period, the Spoilers were then content to play defensive ball and a kicking duel commenced. The Lincolnites threatened twice, but a costly fumble on the Grafton 5 yard stripe and an intercepted pass stemmed both rallies. Grafton, playing conservative ball, stalled out most of the final period with the Lincoln squad unable to hang on to the ball.

Prowlers in 'T' formation.

CROOKSTON

After trailing 6-0 at halftime, the Prowlers came back to score two touchdowns and an extra point and overcame a highly favored Crookston squad 13-6 on October 22 at Crookston.

Driving from their own 32, the Lincolnites passed and ran the ball to the Pirate three, before Grovum bucked over for the score.

Coach Johnson's charges broke the 6-6 deadlock when a long pass from Stadum found Williamson on the Pirate 32 yard line. Williamson sprinted over, Stadum's pass hit Wagner for the extra point, and the rejuvenated Prowlers upset the Pirates 13-6.

EAST GRAND FORKS

Capitalizing on an East Grand fumble in the third period, an inspired Prowler eleven upset the favored Green Wave 7-6, here on October 27.

After threatening throughout the first half, the Prowlers broke the scoring ice midway in the third quarter. Erv Skaar pounced on a Wave fumble on the 14 yard stripe and, two plays later, Wes Olson was across for the score. Al Williamson converted the all-important placement and the Lincolnites led 7-0.

Late in the final period Wavra recovered a Prowler fumble on the local 15. Christianson bulled over three plays later to score. The Wave failed to tally the extra point, however, and the Prowlers won 7-6.

We'll receive! !

BEMIDJI

Prowler gridders closed their 1948 season by dropping a 44-18 decision to a powerful Bemidji squad at Bemidji on November 4.

Aakhus and Skipton dashed 32 and 38 yards respectively for two quick Lumberjack tallies. Trailing 14-0, the Lincolnites fought back when Jack Winter cracked over from the eight. The count stood 14-6 at the first quarter, but Aakhus's 11 yard slash left the Prowlers trailing 20-6 at halftime.

Winter scored his second touchdown midway in the third quarter but the Lumberjack eleven rolled up two more tallies and led 32-12 at the three quarter mark.

Adolphson's pass hit Wagner for the final Prowler tally, but the Lumberjacks outscored the Lincolnites 44-18.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL

Four complete grid squads worked out under junior high football mentor, Coach Jones, last fall. The midget elevens, composed largely of seventh and eighth graders, were divided into two squads, the Blues and the Golds. After hard work and practice the young gridders mastered the fundamentals of the pigskin sport. The junior squads sported their wares before the public in a scrimmage between halves of a varsity game. The Gold team downed the Blue eleven in this junior classic. The work of this year's junior enthusiasts has been built around preparing the teams of tomorrow.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

Coach Bob Nick's cagers sparked by co-captains Al Williamson and Harley Wagner, turned in one of the schools best records in many years as they went all the way to the Region 8 finals before losing to a rough Bemidji quint 39-31. The Prowler squad, although riddled by injury throughout the season, still managed to cop 10 important victories against 8 defeats in seasonal play. In North Valley Competition the crippled basketeers netted 6 victories, including the sole win scored over the title-bound Devils Lake Satans and tied for second in the final N. V. C. standings.

The cage season found the Prowlers plagued by illness and injury. However, March 12th found the Lincolnites winning a well-deserved district crown from a hard-fighting Climax five 33-30. The Prowlers continued their winning ways by beating a surprisingly strong Karlstad quint 46-43 in the regional opener. In the final game the Prowlers led the Lumberjacks throughout the first quarter and stayed within 10 points of the rangy defending state champions the rest of the way. But the Lumberjacks maintained their lead to win 39-31. Due recognition was given to the Prowlers strength when co-captains Al and Harley copped berths on the all-regional team.

The Prowler cage prospects for next year are very promising althongh the Lincolnites lose by graduation Don Sponheim and Erv Skaar, both dependable performers, in addition to the co-captains. Coach Nick has 6 of his tournament squad back for future cage contests.

Prowler cage hopes for the future lie in the hands of the "B" squad Fans who have come early to the Lincoln court contests have seen the 1948-49 reserves in action. Although finishing their season this year with a mediocre won-lost record the Junior cagers have done a good job. Coach Johnson, working with unexperienced players, has molded his material into a workable team. Playing a rugged schedule the reserves, under the leadership of co-captains Duane Vad and Don Lunke, have shown amazing improvement. With many of the freshmen and sophomores improving rapidly Lincoln cage prospects for the future are bright. Several of the members of the present reserve roster are expected to graduate to the varsity berths vacated by senior cagers.

Kiland attempts to block shot as Lunke and DuChamp wait for rebound.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Using its superior height to control the backboards the fighting senior team won the Interclass Basketball Tournament by edging the juniors 26-22 in an overtime. The winners had a 4 point lead with one-half minute to go but the scrappy juniors tied it up. A pair of field goals cinched the game and tournament for the seniors.

The seniors reached the finals by rolling over the sophomores 34-22, while the juniors romped to a 34-24 victory over the freshmen. The freshmen provided a mild upset by winning the consolation game 33-28.

Center Cyril Johnson of the sophomores led the scoring with 19 points, closely followed by Bjorkman (fresh.) and Furseth (jr.) with 18. Olson took top honors for the seniors with 13.

Karwand tips one in for the seniors in the junior tilt.

"REVIEW"

Probably the least known, but one of the hardest working Prowler athletic squads does its practicing during your lunch hour. The Lincoln gymnastic squad, under the able direction of Coach Jones, has worked out skilled routines upon the horse, rings, and parallel bars.

The highlight of the season's preparation was their March 26 trip to Grand Forks. There the Prowler gymnastic team exhibited their tumbling and apparatus skills in a Playday program. The Lincoln artists were led this season by Harlan Mellem, talented senior acrobat, who was an outstanding performer on the apparatus.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

When the Prowler pucksters hung up their skates this spring, they had completed a successful hockey season. The 1948-49 hockey squad with an impressive record of ten wins, five defeats, and a tie during the season's play, wound up their ice competition by copping the consolation honors in the Region 8 tournament. Dropping a hard fought contest to the Williams sextet (6-1) in the opening round of the Regional scuffel, the Lincoln pucksters came slashing back to down the Roseau squad 2-1 the following night for the consolation prize. The Regional championship went to a powerful Warroad club by virtue of their 3-2 overtime triumph over the Williams sextet.

The Prowler squad, working under the able direction of their new coach, Dick Roberts, has a strong club of veterans returing for next year's competition. However, losing Captain Bruce Hall, Don Baken, Harold Baker, and Jim Arras by the graduation route, leaves the Lincoln icemen not entirely uneffected by the passing of the senior class. High scorer for the Blue and Gold six was all-regional wing, Dennis Lund. "Pug" Lund totaled 15 goals and four assists, while Al Steenerson, with nine goals and nine assists, was second high in Prowler records. Next year's Prowler pucksters will travel the victory trail under the guidance of their newly elected co-captains, goalie Miles Thorson and defenseman, Graydon Garlough.

TRACK

On your marks! Get set! Go! and they are off in the 1949 track season. Co-captains Al Williamson and Jack Winter are back to lead the remnants of the squad that won the District and North Valley Conference titles and placed second in the Regional, Sioux Relays, and Beaver Relays.

Although the ranks have been thinned by graduation and eligibility difficulties, the Prowlers still look strong enough to retain their District and Conference crowns and probably come up with one of the Relay's or Regional trophies.

The hurdles look strong with Al Williamson and Kieth Rosengren setting the pace. Williamson, who placed third in the state meet, and Rosengren are also the top notch high-jumpers. Joe Bradley in the broad jump and Glenn Johnson in the mile are good point makers. Jack Winter will try to fight off the injury jinx long enough to garner some points in the 440, while Wes Olson appears to be the man to win in the half-mile. The weights seem to be the weak spots this year, Harley Wagner being the only sure point getter heaving the discus.

The team does not look too strong on paper, but if the quality of coaching and spirit of leadership means anything, the trophy case is due for some more statues this spring.

GOLF

The Prowler golf team has turned in a record the past two years of which the school can well be proud. In 1947 the Prowlers won the District, Regional, Jay-Cee Regional and placed fourth in the State Meet. Besides the victories the squad swept home to home series with Crookston and Bemidji. The whole team was composed of sophomores and the 1948 season looked like a banner year. Ineligibility, however, played the lead man and the Prowlers were fortunate to retain their District and Jay-Cee Regional crowns. The Lincolnites played their best game in the North Valley Conference Meet and walked away with the trophy. The team took single victories from Roseau and Crookston but lost the Regional to Bemidji in a blinding rainstorm.

"The 1949 season's outlook is none too bright with only two veterans returning to help the Prowlers defend their District and Conference titles. The team must settle down to some strenuous practice sessions if it is going to be rated as a good contender for the Regional." These were the words of Coach Roberts in summarizing this year's prospects.

Elwood Karwand and Donald Sponhiem, four year veterans, are expected to lead this year's aggregation onto victory. They will be aided by one year letterman Jerry Tygeson, and Jerry Claffy, Bob Botten, Dick Bjorkman, and Roger Elofson. With practice and the will to win, this squad could well turn into another championship contender.

"REVIEW"

The Prowler tennis squad looks forward to another successful season of summer competition. Jerry Furseth and Wally Grovum, the Lincoln net aces, are both back anxious to defend their regional and North Valley Conference titles. However, several other tennis enthusiasts are bent on giving the Prowler lettermen stiff competition for their tournament berths.

Tennis at Lincoln, stimulated by Coach Jones' summer sports program, is an active sports with many participants competing for inter-class honors in regular tournaments. With a tough schedule of matches being lined up for their summers series, and with stiff requirements being set up for entrance by home competition, the outlook for Prowler tennis is improving.

GIRL'S ATHLETIC

Advisor: Miss Chilton

Under the capable direction of the two advisors, Miss Rosemary Dodds and Miss Judith Chilton, and the G.A.A. board, the Girls' Athletic Association added another successful season to their record.

Last spring at the annual elections, the following board members were elected: Donna Christensen, president; Donna Lunde, vice-president; Irma Martinson, secretary-treasurer; and Carol Lechelt, recording secretary. The sport managers elected were: Dixie Brown, football; Eloise Benson, volleyball; Zona Hendrickson, bowling; Shirley Hoppe, basketball; Katherine Thomas, tumbling; Sybil Torgerson, softball; and Harriet Mullen, track.

Every year the girls are allowed to have three big social events. The first one was the initiation which took place on September 15. At that time Donna Bjerken was elected freshman reprtsentative.

The second event was the sleighride held on January 17. After the invigorating sleighride the girls and their escorts devoured lunch followed by a program and games.

To conclude the season, a playday was held on May 14 with G.A.A. girls from neighboring towns invited to take part in the events.

The athletic season found the girls on the gridiron playing football using fundamentals taught by the manager, Dixie Brown.

When the snow came so did volleyball. Under Eloise Benson's direction a tournament was played.

with Katherine Thomas's team claiming the victory.
At the local bowling alley the pins began to fall as the girls improved under the practiced eye of Zona Hendrickson. Donna Lunde and Shirley Hoppe receievd the top honors for this.
Just after Christmas the most popular sport of all, basketball, was started. The girls were divided into four teams with Sybil Torgerson, Annabelle Peterson, Carol Bjerken, and Mary Ann Wetch, the captains. In the latter part of March a round robin was played to determine the best team. After the tournament was completed a team composed of the best G.A.A. players challenged a group of the women faculty members to a game ending the seasons favorite sport.
Squeezed between the major sports, Katherine Thomas taught the girls how to build pyramids and how to perform other tumbling stunts.
Spring came and with it softball. Under Sybil Torgerson's watchful eye the strikes and hits were counted. At the same time Harriet Mullen sprinted her group of tracksters around the football field. Some of the girls found they could set quite a record.
After the playday the G.A.A. season drew to a close for another year.

The age-old adage, "Practice Makes Perfect," was the theme of the senior band this year. Eight O'clock every week-day morning, except Tuesday and Thursday, saw the band struggling through overtures and marches, besides the two hours rehearsal from seven to nine every Wednesday night.

The result of all this practice was a spring concert presented in the high school auditorium April 1st.

The high light of the year was the Contest at Crookston on April 30 and here on May 6, and of course we must not forget the faithfulness of the the band at all the football and basketball games.

It was not all work and no play for the band, however. A basket social was held last year with Don Sponheim as the able auctioneer. Two band trips were also taken.

Hard practice and good attendance were the keynotes of the point system established by the senior band this year. With the help of a large chart, a record of all absent and tardy members was kept, with surprising results. An elaborate system of points was set up, with points taken off the score for each absence or tardy. at the end of the first six weeks, many of the members found themselves with a low score they didn't think was possible to make.

The climax of this point system was the awarding or lyres and pins to the band members. For the seniors, the coveted gold school sweater with a felt lyre was the reward. For the juniors, a silver pin and for the sophomores, a bronze pin.

Oral B. Vangen, band director.

MARCHING BAND

"Guide right!" "Watch that Line!" were a few of the orders given which passed from line to line as the marching band advanced briskly down the street. The band was performing but only after many hours of work. For six weeks the football field was the scene of much activity. With Mr. Vangen shouting directions the marching band counter-marched, made weaved corners, and made formations. After strenuous practice every Wednesday night, the band demonstrated its ability during the Hamburger Day parade at Warren.

Homecoming was the zenith of the marching season, with the band leading the Homecoming Parade. Intricate formations were presented as the feature attraction between halves of the game.

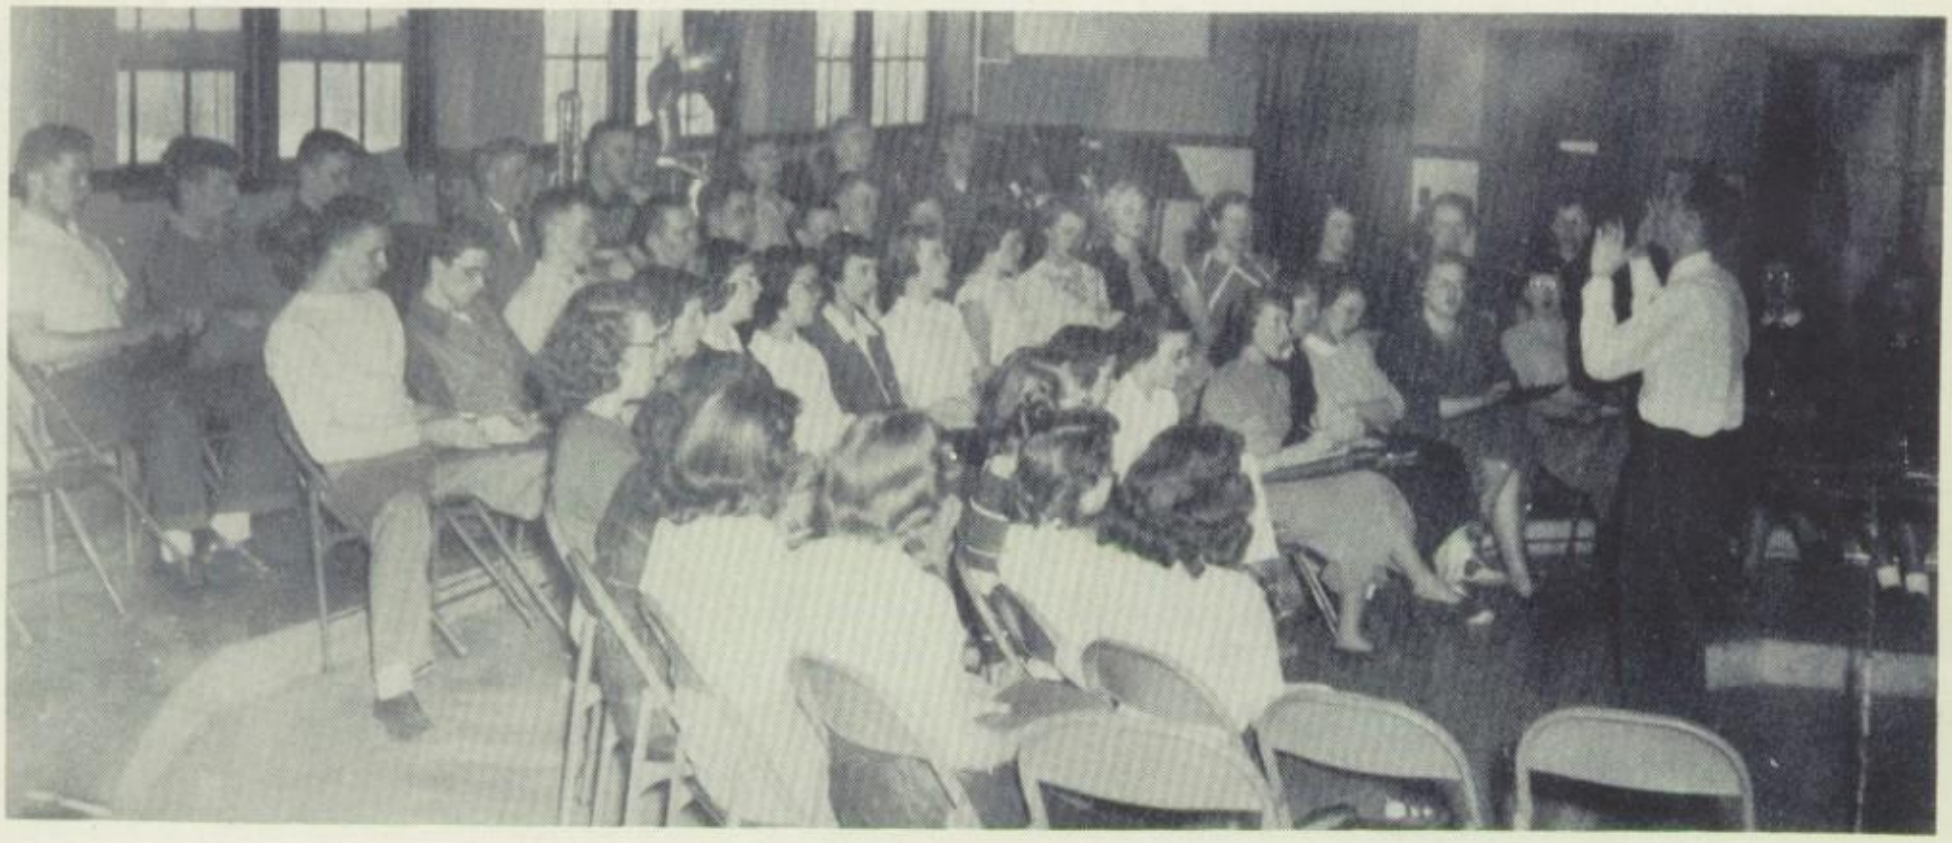
The chorus presented an impressive Christmas concert as its first performance for the public and the student body. An excellent concert, presented jointly with the band, was given April 1st in the high school auditorium.

The chorus, under the able tutorage of Mr. Oral Vangen, concluded a very successful year with the Music Contest in Crookston on April 30.

The Girl's Sextet rendered several musical selections during the year. Two of the numbers were: "Hills of Home" and a popular number, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes". A Boy's Octet specialized in Negro Spirituals, with numbers such as "Climbing Up the Mountain" and "Animals are Coming".



The Lincoln High School Mixed Chorus spends tedious hours rehearsing for annual Spring Concert.

Editor-in-chief Allan Lund

Associate editor, Joyce Hemmestvedt

Room 213 has been the store house for countless numbers of flashbulbs, rolls of film, figures and facts, as well as the conference room and office for the "Prowler" editors during the past hectic months.

All the staffs worked hard to complete and perfect the year book and special mention should be given to the advisor, Miss Doris Oliver, who gave so freely of her time and efforts to advise the stafff. Editor Allan Lund should be commended on the fine work he has accomplished and Joyce Hemmestvedt for her hard work.

Special thanks should be given to the Salveson, Waale, and Mattson Studios and the Year Book House of Kansas City, Missouri, whose cooperation has made this "Prowler" possible.

Our dramatic clubs, the Evening and Noon-Hour, have done much to provide the school with up-and-coming actors. At the first few meetings impromptue speeches were assigned, which gave the members more ease while on the stage. Skits and on-act plays were also often presented as part of the programs.

Troupe 508 of the National Thespian Society has enlarged considerably in the past year. Three initiations were held, the first on December 17. As a part of this Christmas initiation program, a one-act play "Light Competition" was presented by several Thespian members. Skits and monologues were the feature of the second initiation held on February 28. May 23 was the date of the last formal initiation of the year. Awards were presented to various members, besides the ceremony of admitting new members, and a program was presented honoring the senior members. At their meetings, also, the Thespians hand many fine performances. No Thespian will forget the members caricatures of various people extending from classmates to officials of the government.

Lois Mowris and Beverly Kjos

All the well-known characters of "Little Women" were there, living out their lives and loves behind the footlights in the Junior Class Play, November 22 and 23.

Large audiences enjoyed the combination of romance, tragedy, and drama found in this three-act play written by Arthur Jearue. The famous Marmee and Mr. March did a fine job of steering the lives of their four "little women": tomboy Jo; grand lady Amy; housekeeper Meg; and patient Beth.

Aunt March, whose bark was worse than her bite, made everyone laugh, while old Mr. Lawrence, the wealthy neighbor was loved by all. Hannah, the well-meaning cook, Professor Bhaer, the German teacher, and Aunt Carol also added much to the play.

A fine job of casting and directing was done by Miss Helen Movius. The production and business staffs also deserve recognition for their work behind the scenes made the play possible.

THE MOONSTONE

Don Hulbert, Ruth Jacobson, and Jack Winter.

Annabelle Peterson, Barbara Nilsson, Joan Evenstad, Elwood Karwand, Gene Gunstenson, Joyce Lunke.

A huge, accursed diamond was the center of concern in the three-act mystery, "The Moonstone," presented by the senior class on May 10 and 11.

After twenty years of peace the Moonstone diamond again brought mystery and trouble to the Verinder family when it was presented to Gloria Verinder (Ruth Jacobson) on her nineteenth birthday. Lady Verinder's (Carol Kleinvachter) premonition that the Moonstone would endanger all of them came true when the diamond was stolen on the same night. As soon as the theft was discovered Sergeant Cuff (Elwood Karwand) and his assistant Mr. Joyce (Gene Gunstenson) were called in to solve the mystery. However, Gloria astounded everyone by discontinuing the investigation and by breaking her engagement to Franklin Blake (Jack Winter).

Thus the case remained until a year later when Franklin reopened it with the hope of a reconciliation with Gloria. Meanwhile, Godfrey Ablewhite (Don Sponheim) had proposed to her, too.

Also included in the cast were Louella Lund, Allan Lund, Kenneth Omundson, Arthur Tharaldson, Joyce Lunke, Barbara Nilsson, Annabelle Peterson, Joan Evenstad, Don Hulbert, and Harry Simons.

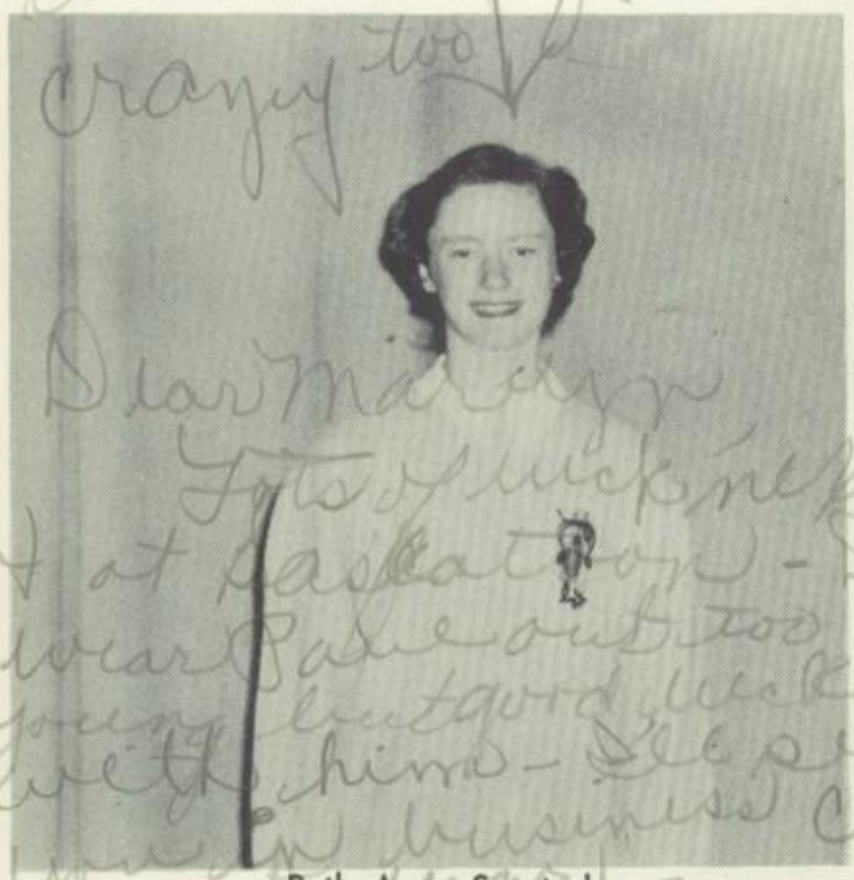
DECLAMATION



Ruth Anne Senstad

Eloise Benson and Allan Lund

This year's extemporaneous speaking, oratory, and public discussion aspirants were under the direction of Mr. James Cochran. In the local contest, held at three o'clock on the afternoon of March 8, the following were the winners: extemporaneous speaking, Don Sponheim; memorized oratory, Elwood Karwand; original oratory, Irma Martinson; public discussion, Marlene Bowman.

The evening contest, beginning at 7:30, was divided into three divisions—dramatic, humorous, and manuscript reading.

In the dramatic division, under the coaching of Miss Gladys Johnson, Eloise Benson won top honors with her presentation of "Yellow".

"George Washington Slept Here" was the winning selection given by Ruth Anne Senstad in the humorous division. She was coached by Miss Ragna Stenerson.

Allan Lund, the winner in the manuscript reading division, under the direction of Miss Helen Movius, read "Don't Die on Third".

At the district contest held in Red Lake Falls on March 14, Lincoln High School's declamation group placed second with a total of thirty-two points, closely following Crookston's thirty-four. Here superior ratings were given to Ruth Anne Senstad, Eloise Benson, Don Sponheim, and Allan Lund. Two of these, Don and Ruth Anne, were chosen to represent District 31 at the regional contest in Fosston. Marlene Bowman, Irma Martinson, and Elwood Karwand were given excellent ratings.

"HIGHNESS"

Carol Kleinvachter, Don Sponheim

Carol Kleinvachter, Don Sponheim

For the first time the district contest was held in Thief River Falls. The schools participating were Crookston, East Grand Forks, Warren, Goodridge, and Thief River Falls. Crookston's play, "The Balcony Scene", won first place.

Love, hate, and death were among the various elements which combined to form the theme of tragedy for our contest play, "Highness", by Ruth Giorloff.

Paul Orlow (Harry Simons), who was a secretary to an important government official found himself very unhappy in the new Russia. In the back of his mind there were memories of a more luxurious past —a past which he couldn't completely recall. Anna Borodin, (Carol Kleinvachter) a scrubwoman, seemed familiar to him although he couldn't place her. Events changed quickly when a prisoner, Masha Petrovna (Gloria Bergland) was brought to him for questioning. Paul recognized her to be the sweetheart of his past whom he had once promised to love always. They decided to escape together to a land where there was more freedom. Anna, who was discovered to be a half-sister of Masha, gave her identification credentials to Masha, while she enticed the guard, Gregory Stroananor, (Don Sponheim) away so they could escape. When Gregory discovered the trick, he shot and killed Anna.

ONE-ACT PLAYS, FEBRUARY 15

I. Barber, E. Dopp, M. Owen, K. Thomas, E. Stokke, J. Barstad.

"And Now There's Buford" was the first play presented. Romantic Roberta Bremmer (June Barstad) decided that her sister Lenore (Irvyn Barber) was jilting Buford Aldershot Jr. (Edward Stokke) for Bill Thompson (Ernest Dopp). So, aided by her chums, Eliabzeth Marsh (Marlene Owen) and Kitty Stone (Kathryn Thomas), she laid plans for disposing of Bill as a suitor and planned to have Buford come to the rescue at the right time. Her plans went astray, though, when Buford, upon his grand entrance, confessed that he had come simply for the food and the good time.

Roland Rainford and Ann Pederson

The second play was "Rich Man, Poor Man". Emma, (Ann Pederson) a society girl, was in charge of a thrift shop where poor people could buy articles for little or nothing. Peter (Peter Chommie) arrived and proposed to her for the tenth time. Kitty, (Elaine Phillips) Tommy Browning, (Jack Winter), a nurse, (Carol Melby) Largo, (Roland Rainford) and Mrs. X. Y. Smythe (Ruth Anne Senstad) were other visitors at the shop. The extremely odd customers were portrayed by Avis Bergum, Lois Vielguth, Robert Williams, Carol Bjerken, Delores Wynnemer, and Merlynne Berge.

S. Hoppe, E. Heaton, C. Walsberg, R. Jacobson, I. Martinson.

An all-girl cast was featured in the third comedy, "The Instincts of a Lady". Ditty Slatz (Ruth Jacobson) and Marjory Bennett (Donna Mae Meyers) were maid and hostess, respectively, in the Model House of a department store. The manager of the department, Miss Henchfield (Irma Martinson) practically fired them, along with Lenna Minborn (Bernice Horter) when she caught them shirking their duty. Mrs. Todd (Donna Kisch) mistook Ditty for Marjory. This caused an extremely humorous mix-up. The shoppers were played by Elaine Heaton, Carol Walsberg, Shirley Hoppe, Phyllis Engelstad, and Marion Geving.

Kenneth Omundson and Arthur Tharaldson

"Roughly Speaking" was the last of the plays. The Fenton's backyard shack hadn't been used for years, when suddenly everyone had plans for it. Sherry (Joyce Lunke) wanted it for a club room; Andy (Gene Gustenson) had it figured as an ideal boathouse. Fay (Gloria Bergland) dragged in a would-be novelist (Harry Simons) who wanted to hole up in the shack. Mrs. Fenton (Donna Christianson) Mrs. Harrison (Evelyn Melin) Henry Fenton (Arthur Thoraldson) Elmer (Kenneth Omundson) and James (Don Hulbert) along with his bride Margie, (Alice Bothman) all needed the "Roughouse". Uncle Ford (Elwood Karwand) thinking the shack worthless, gave it away.

A new group added to Lincoln High this year was the Senior Red Cross Council. Its main purpose was to create a greater co-operation between the local Red Cross Chapter and the high school.

With the able assistance of Miss P. Tweet and Miss S. Husby, the group comprised of two students from each home room, made plans for a chest to send overseas. This chest will be filled with everything from pencils and books to wash clothes and soap.

"Help for all who need help" might well be the motto of the Junior Red Cross Council. Under the supervision of Miss L. Stedje and Mr. V. Johnson, two representatives from each home room have worked together in such projects as baskets to the Old People's Home, favors to the sanatorium, and general help to the needy.

In the international field, an exchange album was made by Miss Sedlacek's eighth grade group.

Every second and fourth Tuesday, room 209 was the scene of much activity as the Camera Club met both at noon and after school. Besides slides such as "How to Make Pictured Christmas Cards" being shown, the club took up many projects. One of these was the developing of pictures. With ambitious zeal, the members stayed after school to learn the fundamentals of printing, many experimenting with pictures they had taken themselves.

TAB CLUB

"Have the books come yet, Carol?" echoed down the hall once a month, as the members of the TAB Club formally known as the Teen-Age Book Club, filed into room 211 to get their books Carol Melby, distribution chairman.

Organized mainly to familiarize seniors with modern and classic literature, the club met the third Thursday of every month. As it was a type of teen-age Book of the Month Club, many seniors found that by the end of the year they had an interesting and valuable library of books which will provide them with much pleasure and information.

SENIOR CHEERLEADERS

Eloise Benson, Marion Geving, Lois Mowris, Greta Paulson, Shirley Hoppe.

What's this coming across the stage? Has Lincoln High gotten some new cheer-leaders? No, it's only Mr. Nick, Mr. Johnson, and Mr. Roberts leading the assembly in more laughs than yells as they came out in orange crepe paper skirts and mophead hair.

Remember the "call boy" for Philip Morris, Paul Green? With his bare-back jacket it was plain to see that a new look had been given to Johnny.

Of course none of us will forget the pep fest in which Don Sponheim had a sticky banana cream pie pushed in his face. Not once, but twice! And Harriet Mullen never did get both feet in that pail.

All in all the pep fests were unique and not quickly forgotten. Hats off to the Pep Club!

No matter what hour of the day, the Library Club is busy shelving and checking out books and taking circulation. Under the supervision of Miss Lorraine Prestemon, the club has learned many invaluable facts of a library besides getting a taste of the actual work.

However, not only does this club work, but it also gives parties, one of the most important being the Christmas supper at which gifts were exchanged.

JUNIOR BAND

Is that a military band we hear every Tuesday and Thursday night after school? No, it's our up and coming Junior band .

Built up from nothing, the band now has thirty three eager students. Junior band, the working ground of future members, gives experience in playing in an ensemble. Thus they can fit into senior band with more confidence and assurance.

Homecoming, the biggest event of the school year, started with a bang on the evening of September 30. Led by the high school band, loyal Lincolnites formed a Snake dance to the fairgrounds where a bonfire pep rally was held. Highlights of the evening was a pep talk by co-captain Al Williamson urging the students to back the Prowlers in the year's biggest game. Fairly shaking the town with their noise, the students were led in some rousing yells by the cheerleaders.

At 3:00 the afternoon of October 1, the coronation pep fest took place in the high school auditorium. In an impressive ceremony, beautiful Lilah Bendickson was crowned Queen of Homecoming. She was attended by: seniors, Carol Melby and Joyce Benson; juniors, Ellen Haug and Harriet Sampson; and sophomores, Glenice Jorde and Jeanne Tygeson. Queen Lilah was crowned and presented with a lovely bouquet of roses by co-captains Joe Bradley and Al Williamson.

PROWLERS VS. SATANS

Queen Lilah reigns in victory over gala Homecoming Dance in the gymnasium after the exciting game in which the Prowlers defeated the Devils Lake Satans.

The annual Homecoming parade on Friday evening featured six uniquely decorated floats, the Lincoln High School marching band with the twirlers, and the cheerleaders. Starting at the high school, the parade proceeded through the business district and returned to the football field, where the band marched across the field, escorting the queen and her attendants to their places of honor in the stands.

From the kickoff to the final gun the Homecoming game lived up to all expectations. Featuring powerful line plunges and spectacular passes, the game kept fans on the edge of their seats from start to finish. As a fitting climax to the day's activities the Prowlers gained a well-deserved victory over the Devils Lake Satans with a score of 7-6.

After the game Lincoln High alumni, visitors from Devils Lake, and students were invited to attend the first Homecoming dance ever held in the high school gym. Thus ended Queen Lilah's victorious and successful reign.

"APRIL SHOWERS" BRING THE PROM.

Hand-painted backdrop furnished a colorful setting for the Kampus Kings.

Gliding to the soft strains of "April Showers" played by the nine-piece Kampus Kings Orchestra, the juniors and seniors were delightfully entertained at the 1949 Prom. Acting president of the junior class, Maynard Troland, with his guest, Betty Lattery, led the Grand March. Soft, pastel colors used in the decorating scheme, with three beautifully hand-painted backdrops, gave a spring-like atmosphere to the gymnasium.

A captivating program, followed by a delectable lunch completed an evening long to be cherished by those who attended the 1949 Prom.

and don't forget
Lovable Stevenson

God luck for the future + in the following yr.
Dear Marilyn
behave yourself this summer but with Paul to take care of you
Lots of luck
Love
Denise

Dear Marilyn
I hope I get you in some of my classes next year especially history
I certainly hope the history teacher doesn't call me "Romeo"!!

Dear Marilyn
Good luck next year and have fun this summer.
Angeline

Dear Marilyn
Had a hot time
this year do nothing
Have a nice
Beach and suck it
Lots of Love
Lois O.

Dear Marilyn
Luck next yer
to a cute and nice
Kid.
Marilyn

Dear Lois,
Aren't you glad we have Mr. Goodfad gym + Fat Slave
Loves Dodd?
Be good this summer.
Lots luck,
Lois O.
